Savings RateExplanation

Savings Rate is calculated by dividing total annual savings by total personal income. Savings includes depsoits made to retirement accounts, other savings accounts, education accounts, and extra payments towards debt. Savings Rate indicates how much your income is being put away for future expenses, emergencies, and retirement.

Notes and Action Items

? Y You have enough money in your savings account to cover your emergency fund of 3 months.
? Y Your savings rate is good but we can use a brokerage account to increase the amount you are saving.
? Y Your savings is currently earning a low interest rate, we recommend putting your emergency fund into a high-yield savings account, to earn an extra $$ 900$ a year.
